RE: Office of Inspector General's Summary Reports of Investigation re: Laquan McDonald

Dear Requester:

In response to your request for Office of Inspector General's Summary Reports of Investigation regarding Laquan McDonald, the Department of Law discloses the following reports, pursuant to Section 2-56-110 of the Municipal Code:

Arturo Becerra, Dora Fontaine, Stephen Franko, Thomas Gaffney, Daniel Gallagher, David March, Joseph McElligott, David McNaughton, Janet Mondragon, Eugene Roy, Daphne Sebastian, Jason Van Dyke, Leticia Velez, Ricardo Viramontes, Joseph Walsh, and Anthony Wojcik.

In your review of these reports, please be advised of the following:

- The Corporation Counsel does not conduct the investigations that are the subject of the SRIs, conduct the analysis reflected by and in the SRIs, draft or approve issuance of the SRIs, or opine on the accuracy of the SRIs.
- The SRIs are not the work product of the Corporation Counsel. If an SRI is disclosed in whole or in part, it is disclosed solely as the work product of the OIG, and the Corporation Counsel makes no representations as to the SRIs' content.
- The Corporation Counsel is unaware of anything that may have occurred during the OIG's investigation that created or may have created, as to any person or entity who provided information in connection with an investigation or was a target or subject of same, any actual or arguable rights or expectation of privacy or confidentiality.
- The Corporation Counsel is also unaware of any other concerns that persons or entities who provided information in connection with an investigation (or were a target or subject of same) may have, or may have shared with the OIG, relating to safety, potential retaliation, or other possible adverse consequences that might result from public disclosure of an SRI.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,

Mark A. Plessner
Corporation Counsel
